State Comments:

Mary Hatch, environmental engineer for ITT, described this facility as a small quantity generator consisting of technical administration and research labs. This facility is less than two years old and has a separate EPA ID number from the main facility. The main facility, on Pontiac Street in Fort Wayne, applied for a 30 day accumulation extension (RCRA). This landed the site in question on the CERCLIS mistakenly. Considering the small quantities of hazardous waste generated (2 bbl/yr) and the case of mistaken identify, no further action is recommended.
